SUMMARY

Introduction

It is necessary for any person or institution to be aware of new developments or news that arise on issues that affect us directly. For this reason, this press dossier has been compiled so that the entire Adorers family can be "up to date".

In order to achieve this objective, we will gather news on a bi-weekly basis, based on three fundamental axes:

1. The presence of our Congregation in the media.
2. News about the different projects of the Adorer Family.
3. News about Human Trafficking and Sexual Exploitation.

The aim of these materials is to make the Adorer Family aware of the social work carried out by our Congregation as well as the dramatic situation against which, fundamentally, we put all our effort and commitment.

Title: "After being a victim of trafficking and exploitation, I discovered what respect is, thanks to Sisters Adorers".

Source: Diócesis Málaga

Date: 04/03/2022

Abstract: On 8th March, International Women's Day, the section CHARITY HAS VOICE has given voice this Friday to a woman victim of trafficking and exploitation who recounts her harrowing experience and thanks to Sisters Adorers for making her "an independent and humble woman. With them I got to know what respect is". Listen to her testimony here.

Abstract: One of the traditions of the residential resources is to celebrate the birthdays of the women in care. Generally, a more elaborate meal is prepared, a cake with candles is served for dessert and the birthday girl receives a small gift. Celebrating a life free of trafficking and feeling like a protagonist for a few hours are some of the characteristics of these meetings, of great symbolic value for the celebrations.

Abstract: The professional team, users, and volunteers have had to wait 2 years to meet again for 8M. Yesterday, with the excitement of the launch of the song "Con Fuerza Regresé", which got more than 1000 views on YouTube, we enjoyed a group reflection activity, we had lunch together and, afterward, we protested in Barcelona. As the collective women's song, now our anthem, says: 'Me with power and you without knowing that I could stand up. Today and every day are 8M.'

Abstract: This week we brought our anti-trafficking project to the students of Residencia Universitaria Our Lady of Consolation, many of whom come from other countries. The dialogue lasted until late at night and we are grateful for the great interest and the interesting questions asked by the participants. It created a very pleasant atmosphere of reflection on a reality that violates the human rights of so many people in the world.

Abstract: From Proyecto Esperanza, we are following with great concern the situation in Ukraine, and we want to express our solidarity with the Ukrainian people. As an associate member of La Strada International, we met last Friday to see how we can be more useful in this context, and we are in contact with our colleagues from La Strada Ukraine. War and the forced displacement that accompanies it, as we are seeing these days, increase the vulnerability of the population to human trafficking, and are used by traffickers who take advantage of this situation of uncertainty and desperation. At this time, and always, we call for ensuring that all people have the right to seek asylum and find safe refuge in another country, as well as respect for human rights and international humanitarian law. As the UN High Commissioner for Refugees has said, there are no winners in war .

Abstract: Our multidisciplinary team is made up of 25 professionals who intervene with survivors throughout the entire process with an approach based on human rights, gender, intersectional, cross-cultural, and resilience. Having a clear gender perspective is relevant because we must understand why women in the world are discriminated against, in a situation of inequality and subordination. Based on biological aspects, it has been legitimized and naturalized that women must always be at the service of others, that they must be caregivers and that they must remain in the private sphere. A series of attitudes, behaviors, values, feelings, needs, ideas, abilities, affections, functions, and roles that are supposed to be natural for all women have been constructed and perpetuated through socializing agents such as parents, family, school, media, soap operas, stories, and films. At the same time, based again on biology, it is constructed and justified that men are aggressive, with irrepressible needs, superior to women, and therefore they should have dominance and authority. They possess political, sexual, social, and cultural hegemony.

Abstract: El pasado miércoles 2 de marzo en el marco del Día Internacional de las mujeres, hemos compartido con el Colectivo Diversas de Navalcarnero la conferencia: La trata de mujeres con fines de explotación. Violación de los derechos de las mujeres. Fue una oportunidad para señalar, una vez más, que la trata de personas supone una violación de derechos humanos que no es neutral en cuanto al género. Tal y como afirma la Declaración de Beijing, la trata es una forma de violencia basada en el género. Y no sólo lo es porque la mayor parte de las víctimas son mujeres y niñas, sino también porque determinadas formas de trata suponen, en sí mismas, violencia contra la mujer por el hecho de serlo. Las formas de trata para explotación que tienen una incidencia desproporcionada en mujeres y niñas son, como mínimo la trata para explotación sexual (comercial o no), incluida la pornografía, la trata para explotación laboral en sectores fuertemente feminizados, como el servicio doméstico o el trabajo en “salones de belleza” o en determinados sectores de la agricultura, la trata para matrimonio forzado, y la trata para la gestación de bebés para su posterior venta o para adopciones ilegales.

Abstract: In Proyecto ESPERANZA we have been promoting for years different spaces of encounter between victims and survivors of trafficking. What is the approach and the value behind it? Sisterhood as an axis that enhances their recovery. The team dynamizes a space by programming permanent group workshops to encourage interaction and awareness of themselves as free women and to promote their life projects, based on their autonomy. We do this not only today 8 March 2022 but 365 days a year through the following workshops: The sessions are given by psychologists, social workers, and educators. We thank all the team involved in this task.

Abstract: Yesterday our Head of the Legal Department Eva Sancha took part in an Anti-Trafficking conference organized by the Navarre Civil Guard Command. We would like to thank her for the opportunity to continue strengthening the collaboration between the State Security Forces, the Public Prosecutor's Office, the authorities, and specialized entities against Human Trafficking. All the speakers participated in the conference, exchanging points of view, experiences, good practices, and our analysis of trafficking in Spain. We continue to weave links and efforts to make this crime and this serious violation of human rights visible to offer support and protection to victims and survivors .

Abstract: A new day is dawning and we want to fill ourselves with strength, commitment, and fight against trafficking. Because every day is 8M. For every day there is a survivor to support in her therapy process, in the processing of her papers, or in a trial against the traffickers who took away her dignity. Last week we went out to fill the streets with equality, hope and sisterhood. This is a small tribute to all the survivors and women who inspire us to continue fighting this violation of human rights.

Abstract: During Lent, Christ invites us to change our lives. The Church invites us to live Lent as a path towards Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ reveals to us what the way to Easter is by walking it first. To walk towards Easter is to become incarnate, deepening our human condition, it is to become silent to listen to God the Father. At the same time, it is to "put ourselves in the shoes of the other" to accompany and heal. This year we would like to invite you to share and to make the Lenten journey together, in the context of the 165th anniversary of the foundation of the Congregation.
