SUMMARY

Introduction

It is necessary for any person or institution to be aware of new developments or news that arise on issues that affect us directly. For this reason, this press dossier has been compiled so that the entire Adorers family can be "up to date".

In order to achieve this objective, we will gather news on a bi-weekly basis, based on three fundamental axes:

1. The presence of our Congregation in the media.
2. News about the different projects of the Adorer Family.
3. News about Human Trafficking and Sexual Exploitation.

The aim of these materials is to make the Adorer Family aware of the social work carried out by our Congregation as well as the dramatic situation against which, fundamentally, we put all our effort and commitment.

Abstract: Ramadan started at the beginning of April and several women living in our residential resources follow this important month of "Muslim religion". Ramadan begins during the ninth month of the Islamic lunar calendar, i.e. when the rising moon is first sighted. During these days of prayer and reflection, Muslim users fast from sunrise to sunset and adapt their meal times, which are not usually the same as those of the rest of the group. Religious #diversity is part of everyday life at SICARcat and we provide spaces and moments for everyone to freely live their beliefs.

Abstract: Good news K. is very excited because she finally has her own current account and bank card. As an account holder, from now on, she will be able to contract basic services such as electricity, water or gas supply, rent a house, receive a state or autonomous economic benefit,... As we have denounced on several occasions, the women we work with face countless difficulties, one of which is accessing and maintaining a bank account. Some banks do not comply with current regulations and violate the right to financial inclusion of groups such as victims of human trafficking.

Abstract: Today we are launching our activity report for the year 2021 and together with it the press release that we invite you to read and share with the link at the end of the post. The health crisis, with its ups and downs, seems to be receding, the social crisis, on the contrary, is in danger of becoming chronic. We are aware of the beginnings of recovery but access to fundamental rights, housing, decent work, continue to suffer from structural flaws.

The project has been providing care for women victims of trafficking for the purpose of sexual exploitation, under contract, with the Directorate General for Equality since 2007, providing a day centre and a residential resource with 13 places. This visit has been an opportunity to update information, to get closer and to continue with the dialogue for the permanent improvement of the services we provide. We would especially like to thank the team of the Directorate General for Equality for the time and attention they dedicate to us and we continue in this shared commitment to fight for the rights of women victims of trafficking.

Abstract: Last Friday Iskra Orrillo, Head of Health, participated in La Mesa Contra la Traata organized by the Subdelegación del Gobierno in Burgos and organized by Accem and Betania Burgos. This meeting is held annually, and its objective is to evaluate the previous year, and to establish and reinforce lines of action. This meeting addressed the specific situation of women and minors from Ukraine and the ad hoc measures that have been adopted in response to their difficult context. Thanks to the new legislation (royal decree law 6/2022), all victims of this crime are recognized as being in a particularly vulnerable situation or at risk of exclusion, which means that they are allowed to create a bank account free of charge. Our colleague gave a presentation on the psychological impact of trafficking on women victims and how to avoid their re-victimization when dealing with the authorities. We are grateful for these spaces of coordination between public authorities and specialized entities in order to continue improving our intervention and to avoid the re-victimization of women who have suffered the crime as much as possible. We invite you to watch the video "La fuerza de lo cotidiano", which features Chantall, a true survivor who is an example of overcoming and resilience.

Abstract: Last Friday we had the opportunity to welcome the Wanawake Mujer team who were meeting at our offices and who invited us to participate and contribute to their training process. We have been collaborating with this organization for several years, always finding synergies for the pre-employment training of women survivors of trafficking. It has been an opportunity to share in more depth the reality of the women we work for, to update information and to make face-to-face contact to build bonds and links. It is always a pleasure to work in this kind of alliances that help us to reach more places and, in more ways, always in the service of the fight against trafficking.

Abstract: Yesterday we had a meeting with Katrina Fotovat, High Representative for Global Women's Issues of the US State Department at the US Embassy in Madrid, together with other organizations specialized in the field of trafficking, such as our colleagues from APRAMP, A21 Spain and AMAR DRAGOSTE, to share with her our work, our vision, and our concerns on the issue of trafficking. We appreciate the meeting and the interest in learning about our work and the steps that have been taken in Spain in the fight against #countertrafficking as well as the concerns we have from the specialized organizations to continue improving prevention and protection of victims and survivors. Annually, we also meet with the political section of the embassy to contribute our analysis, proposals and recommendations within the framework of the TIPreport.

Abstract: A Cry for Life" Network Multipliers Seminar. "A cry for life", that life so often threatened, enslaved, oppressed, exploited, discarded... A network, formed by religious from all over Brazil (and linked to the international network Talita Kum) that makes its own the "cry" of the victims of human trafficking, in any of its manifestations. I want a happy life, as God always wanted; I want a life of love, where God is greater than evil and pain... I was born free to have dignity and to win". These short excerpts from the network's hymn summarize its dream and goal. And the hymn, in its refrain, goes on to cry out: "Thousands of other voices in solidarity will unite". This was the aim of the first seminar of the network in the region of Rondonia and Acre, in which Sisters Stella Cardona and Begoña Requejo, from the Adorer community in Brazil, took part. And it was not "thousands of voices" that joined in, as the group was certainly small, but it achieved its objective of motivating the participants to be active members (the network is open to lay people) and to be multipliers who raise awareness of this social scourge and carry out preventive actions. For us it has been a great enrichment, especially at this time of knowing the reality that surrounds us and the dynamics of exploitation of the human person that take place in this land, an important migratory corridor, and also an excellent opportunity to connect with all those who share the same dream of a Life where there is no trade in human beings.

Abstract: Youth Easter 2022 in Tucuman. During Holy Week, more than 450 young people were encouraged to live a Retreat of Impact, a space that has been providentially of superabundant Grace! Young people in their final year of secondary school, approximately in that age range, have given themselves to the journey of seeing their lives through the Easter event and all that anthropologically challenges us too, with the unique touches of the salvific message that the greatest Christian week provides us with. These young people have benefited from countless dynamics, signs, liturgical activities, and the service of the laity who have listened to all those concerns and inner movements that the Deserts and moments have aroused. The fruitful process of the Calvary, death and resurrection of our Lord Jesus has been an occasion of metanoia and Kayros for so many who have renewed their history and have prepared their Yes to live in their daily life with the Living and Risen Christ.
